

EICHER UPDATE

March 5, 2010

We had a crazy wacky week and loved it! It was a fun week to hopefully end this wintery weather!!!

I will be doing one-on-one evaluations next week. You can review with your children this weekend. Counting 1-70, recognizing #'s 1-15, counting objects to 15, # order to 15, recognition of capital & little letters except, X & Z, reading blends & one-vowel words, pledge to the Bible, months of the year, days of week, writing name without looking at name tag, throw, catch, pass, stand on one foot, hop, jump, clap to the beat.

I will not introduce a new # or letter this week.

Last week we talked about authors and illustrators, this week we will continue, focusing on Eric Carle, one of my personal favorite children's author & illustrator! We will have a mini space unit to go along with one of Eric's books! We will

I still need 2 more volunteers to make our children's program at the auction a success!!!! Thank you to those who are giving back to our awesome school! When you volunteer it makes you feel good and creates school pride and spirit! I really appreciate your help. We have not received enough auction money to do a signed picture frame. We may have to go with a plan B. We will make our auction project next week and will confirm the item to be listed in program. I have 13 students that still need to give $2 for auction project. Let's make this a fun item to bid on!!!!

Snacks: M- Jack H. T-Eryn W-Alex H. Th- Aubree F-Simeon

HAVE A WONDERFUL SPRING-LIKE WEEKEND!

Mrs. Eicher & Mrs. Kane